Company history/background

Sustainable and innovative

The food innovation in question leads to a significant reduction in residual streams in this type of meat processing. At the same time, this innovation ensures an additional high-quality meat product. A relevant network has been established within the meat processing sector.

The consequences of a reduction in the residual stream

- less water waste
- less waste of animal feed
- higher meat yield per animal
- (potentially) a reduction in the required number of animals

Unique selling points

Interesting meat product

The meat product is suitable as a convenience product for the hospitality industry and consumers:

- quick preparation (< 5 minutes)
- easy to eat (optionally without cutlery)
- to season in many different flavors

Other

Active participation

The company is seeking an active investor familiar with the food sector, for example the meat processing industry. The company holds patents on the product shapes and the machine (production line) used to manufacture the product. Participation is possible starting from 150,000 euros.
