Company history/background

The company has approximately 40 employees.

The company generates a portion of its approximately 15 million turnover in property maintenance for housing associations, municipalities, owners' associations, businesses, and private individuals. Additionally, the market segment includes non-residential construction, new residential construction for its own project development, and project developers.

Unique selling points

The order book is well filled, and much of the work is carried out within a construction team.

Other

Following the acquisition, the current management intends to properly oversee the transfer in consultation with the buyer.
