Company history/background

Founded in 2009, it built up a good customer base within a short time. Since then, the customer base has continued to expand, partly due to an ever-widening product range and consistently good service. Over the last two years, the customer base has increased by 25%.

This concerns a wholesaler with its own transport, specializing in the supply of meat, fish, vegetables, packaging, and spices – fresh or frozen – primarily to butcher shops (retail), the hospitality industry, specialty shops, and catering.

Unique selling points

The company's distinctiveness and growth are largely due to the extensive product range and high level of service.

Other

If desired, the business premises can be leased out. The potential buyer may be an MBI candidate from the sector. Another option is a strategic party capable of accurately assessing the added value of this company's activities and integrating them into its own organization. More specifically: parties wishing to strengthen or expand their current comparable activities in the sector in which the wholesaler operates.
