Company history/background*Scarce permit position in urban center

One of the first official night shop permits has been definitively granted in a Randstad city. The operation will take place in a prime location in the urban core, with limited competition due to a highly regulated permit system. This creates a unique combination of scarcity, predictable demand, and consistent traffic.

Convenience retail with high rotation and premium pricing

The store focuses on late-night convenience retail: snacks, drinks, and essentials, with high impulse value and above-average margins. Thanks to extended opening hours (7 days a week) and a premium assortment, a stable sales profile is created, with clear peaks in the evening and night.

In addition to the physical store, a dedicated evening delivery service will be established within a limited urban radius of the location. This will generate additional demand from consumers seeking convenience. This increases revenue per opening hour, increases customer frequency, and strengthens the location as the primary convenience hub in the city center.

Unique selling points

Cash flow potential and investable operating income

Based on comparable locations and product mix (including alcohol), a revenue level of approximately €1 million per year is considered realistic after stabilization. This could lead to an EBITDA potential of €150,000 with tight operations, staff planning, and security.

Other

Funding sought: €200,000

€200,000 in capital is being sought for the rollout, earmarked for furnishings, refrigeration, inventory, staffing in the initial months, security, and an operational buffer. Participation is intended for investors who wish to become co-shareholders in a regulated convenience store.
