The company is a full-service installer based in Friesland. In terms of the type of work, the company is primarily active in the renovation market. They are active in various technical installation matters, ranging from central heating, gas, water, and electrical installations to sanitary facilities, solar energy, and (hybrid) heat pumps. PV panels are typically outsourced.

The majority of the revenue is generated in the business market. For example, they undertake recurring projects for schools, childcare organizations, a number of housing associations, and several construction companies. In addition, they also undertake work for private clients. Approximately 70-75% of the revenue is generated in the business market.

Other

After several decades of entrepreneurship, the current owner is ready to step back. The seller is seeking a suitable party to further grow the business. The seller is willing to transfer operations via a smooth handover but does not wish to remain employed for the long term (> 1 year).
