Company history/background

This concerns an asset and liability transaction of a company active in the cultivation and supply of organic herbs.

The company's roots date back to 1986. It is a specialized organic herb nursery located in the south of the country. Since approximately 2009, the company has made a structural transition to fully organic cultivation, making it one of the pioneers in the Netherlands in the field of certified organic potted and cut herbs.

The annual production comprises nearly half a million organically grown potted herbs. These potted herbs are primarily grown for garden centers and health food stores in a very wide assortment.

The company is operated as a private limited company. The compact and well-coordinated staff team consists of the two owners and four permanent employees. In addition, the company works with a flexible workforce, enabling it to quickly scale up and down in line with seasonal patterns. It is a small and flat organization.

Unique selling points

The company is established in a representative and favorably situated privately owned business premises. The location serves as both the production site and the business address of the organic herb nursery and comprises the cultivation fields, growing facilities, packaging zones, and supporting business spaces necessary for daily operations and logistics. The representative residential house is situated adjacent to the business premises.

Other

Given their age, the entrepreneurs have chosen to give their lives a different direction. Succession is being sought in the form of a strategic or MBI candidate with sufficient knowledge of and affinity with the industry and the market.
