Company history/background

Due to the retirement of one lawyer and the emigration of the other after building up his practice over 27 years, two successful law practices have become available in the Central Netherlands. You are joining a practice with a strong reputation, a loyal client base, healthy revenue, and ample room to grow further. From day one, you can be an entrepreneur and chart your own course.

The practices are located in a modern and representative office building, where a successful third law practice is also established.

Unique selling points

Why this is an interesting opportunity

- Start your own business immediately with the security of a long-standing, profitable practice.
- No need to invest years in building a client portfolio
- A firm with more than 50 years of name recognition in the wider region
- Excellent Google Reviews and a constant influx of new clients
- Acquisition of one or both practices possible
- Collaboration with or affiliation with a larger law firm is also a possibility.
- A careful handover, in which the current lawyers, if desired, continue to guide and/or support the successor for some time after the transfer.
- A modern and representative office building (rent or purchase possible) that can be occupied immediately.

Other

Whether you want to take the step into independent entrepreneurship or expand as an existing firm, here you get the opportunity to build upon a strong foundation, rather than having to build everything from scratch. This allows you to focus from day one on what you do best: advising clients, developing relationships, and continuing to grow.

Market-based pricing serves as the starting point, whereby we attach value to good successors for the practices.

Naturally, we treat all responses with strict confidentiality. Further information, including financial details, will be provided to serious interested parties following an initial personal meeting and the signing of a confidentiality agreement.
